April Artist Salon at the Sitka Center for Art and Ecology

Otis, OR — The Sitka Center for Art and Ecology will host another Artist Salon on April 14th, from 5:30 – 8:30pm in the Boyden Studio. Community members are warmly invited to come visit the Sitka Center and meet our talented group of current Artists-in-Residence! The residents will share their work and talk about what brought them to the Sitka Center; the Sitka Center will provide its famous Macaroni and Cheese and a comfortable atmosphere in which to listen and engage with old and new friends, both!

Each year from October to May, Sitka offers up to twenty-eight artists, writers, scientists and musicians the chance to live and work at the Center's facility near Cascade Head. The Artist Salons are a way for those residents to share the work that means so much to them, as well as to connect more deeply with the local community they will be a part of for up to three and a half months.

The salon will include musical performances by Francis Blaker and Letitia Berlin, readings from Tracy Zeman and Ellen Waterston, and presentations by visual artists Shannon Berg and William Park. To learn more about the residents and their projects head to: www.sitkacenter.org.

*Committed to expanding the relationships between art, nature and humanity, the Sitka Center for Art and Ecology is renowned for its workshop and residency programs, and its support of the local community. Exploration of the coastal environment has remained a key component to the Center's vitality. Located on Cascade Head, with views of the Pacific Ocean, Sitka offers a place where artists of all abilities and backgrounds come to inspire, create, and, ultimately, transform themselves.
